Coming Soon to the Dallas Zoo: Nature Connects, a LEGO® Brick Art Exhibit

JANUARY 15 - APRIL 10

The excitement is building! The Dallas Zoo is thrilled to announce their newest exhibit, Nature Connects, a remarkable sculpture show created by artist Sean Kenney using LEGO® bricks, at the Dallas Zoo from January 15 to April 10. The installation features 16 displays created from 24 sculptures depicting scenes from the natural world, each carefully built with thousands of LEGO® pieces by Kenney.

See how one small LEGO® brick, when thoughtfully placed with thousands of others, becomes a larger-than-life hummingbird frozen in flight, a peacock displaying his colorful feathers or a Galapagos tortoise with a Darwin finch perched on its back. These sculptures connect guests to nature and have a big impact in awe-inspiring ways.

Nature Connects will be free with Zoo admission. Explore 16 displays made up of 24 sculptures. Play, build, experiment, and create in the Stay and Play Brick Yard. Collaborate, problem solve, and connect with science, technology, engineering, and math through their interactive family activities.
