North Texas Irish Festival at Fair Park

March 4, 5 & 6

Claiming the title of "Largest Celtic Event in the U.S. Southwest," the North Texas Irish Festival is a three-day celebration featuring music, folk dancers, storytelling and educational programs.

Staged each year by the Southwest Celtic Music Association, the North Texas Irish Festival was first held in the early 1980s at a local lounge, but has grown into the large, family-friendly event it is today.

Today, it is held at Fair Park in Dallas and is one of the largest events presented at Fair Park with a weekend full of Irish music, dance, storytellers and other live performances spread across ten stages.

A YEAR WITH FROG AND TOAD

January 29 - February 28

The three-time TONY-nominated Broadway hit with its jazzy score hops to DCT just in time for spring. This whimsical musical follows two unlikely best friends and their quirky egos from hibernation to planting, to swimming, to sledding with plenty of fun and lots to learn along the way. This adorably charming story captivates audiences of all ages - even those who think they're too old for make-believe. Join Frog and Toad as they weather the seasons and celebrate the differences that make them special. You and your best friends will be tapping your webbed toes all the way home!

Recommended for ages 4 and up
