Cottonwood Arts Festival Saturday May 3 - 4

From its humble beginnings in 1969, the Cottonwood Art Festival has developed into one of the most prestigious fine art festivals in the United States. Local artists staged their first festival at the scenic Cottonwood Park in Richardson, Texas. It was all tie-dye, bell-bottoms and braids back then where the artists laid down blankets and set up easels with the hopes of selling a few pieces of art. Since that first weekend nearly five decades later, Cottonwood has established itself as signature art event, become a tradition in the community and the home to the finest artists in the country for the first weekend of May and October.

Admission to Cottonwood Art Festival is FREE, however some activities in the Art Stop Children's area require a nominal fee.

Dallas Museum of Art host special exhibit from Lion King Broadway Musical

Inspired by the Arlington Museum of Art, which is currently displaying costumes from the blockbuster Wicked film, the African American Museum, Dallas is partnering with Broadway Dallas on a new exhibit spotlighting the stage production of The Lion King.

Titled “From Africa to the Broadway Stage: Disney’s The Lion King,” the exhibit showcases five original pieces — four masks and one puppet — that demonstrate Julie Taymor’s groundbreaking design work.

These theatrical pieces are on display alongside actual African pieces from the museum’s permanent collection, allowing visitors to see the influence that actual African artistic works had on the creation of the Broadway musical.

The African American Museum, Dallas is conveniently located just across the parking lot from Broadway Dallas’ main home at the Music Hall at Fair Park. Disney’s The Lion King returns to the venue this summer, June 4-July 3. The exhibit is on display daily now through July 3, with the museum staying open late during the musical’s run so that ticket holders can walk over and explore the exhibit before curtain.

“The exhibit is an excellent example of the inseparable connectivity between the performing arts and the visual arts,” says Margie Reese, the museum’s interim executive director.
